

McDougle Family News

September 2008

On The Way

- ~4 months along
- ~almost 5 inches long!
- ~due February 9th

Prayers

- ✓ Thanksgiving for Yelena, from our LST studies, expressing a desire to study the Bible more in depth
- ✓ For our LST studies: especially for Eduard, Yelena, Tatiana and Diana
- ✓ For our language studies, that we will be able to communicate fluently!
- ✓ For our health, especially Lucy during her pregnancy
- ✓ For one-time support for our move
- ✓ For our upcoming move and our Ukrainian visas

New News

Greetings from Moscow! We hope this finds you all doing well and getting into the new school year.

We are doing well. We don't have much new going on right now, which means we've settled into a nice routine! In fact, this might be our last newsletter from Moscow, since we will be in the process of packing and moving to Kharkov, Ukraine in October. So, our next newsletter will actually come from Kharkov!

LST

We continue our Tuesday night follow up with LST. We've had a few more participate now that summer is over and people are back in town. Yelena, one of our faithful students, has requested to study the Bible more in depth. Volodya, one of the leaders at the church here, along with Sasha, who has been helping us with LST, are organizing further studies with her in Russian. Please pray for these studies!

Language Studies

Dougle recently started his next term of language studies. He has 5 hours of class, 3 days a week. It is all in Russian! Then he will have two days of seminars, also in Russian. He will be taking seminars in culture, history and literature. So far it has been a challenge for him and he has come home with lots of homework! I think this time in the language institute will really advance his time in the language institute will really advance his speaking, listening and writing skills!

Canaan enjoying painting!

The Move

Our move date is set for October 12th! We are excited that Lucy's dad, Kirt Martin, will be flying over to help us with the move, since Lucy has had a difficult pregnancy so far! We are excited about our upcoming move, being with our team, and settling into Kharkov, Ukraine!

Moscow Weather

The weather here has been crazy recently! Overall, it has been warm, in the 70's. However, we have already had a few days where the highs were in the 40's! We broke out our coats and hats! On another note, the daylight has been getting to more 'normal' timing. The darkness is sticking around a little longer, with dawn breaking around 6am; in addition, it is getting darker earlier: dusk is now coming at 9pm!

Playing in the Sand

Our Contact Information

Our address here will remain the same until October; however because of the length of time it takes to receive mail, don't send anything until we have our new address in Ukraine.

